Details of "Big Meeting" Agenda:

Saturday, June 15th; 9:00am - 5pm THE SECOND NATIONAL SECKATARY HAWKINS CLUB MEETING at the Behringer Crawford Museum, in Scenic Devou Park along the Ohio River in Covington, Kentucky, boyhood hometown of RF Schulkers and just a few miles away from the Fair & Square Club riverbank.

- Enjoy fun seminars about the life and times of Seckatary Hawkins
  - Special Guest: Randy Schulkers (Seck's grandson) will discuss the conversations that he had with his grandfather about their favorite book: Stormie the Dog Stealer. Learn how the story was updated in the early 1940's; what changed and why and how it created the newly published version of Stormie. Randy will tell us about many other writings of Robert Franc Schulkers. Finally, he will take all of your Seck Hawkins questions!
  - George Beatty will discuss the arduous process of creating the fabulous new Seckatary Hawkins comic book collections. He will inform us how many of the lost comics were found through the efforts of your fellow club members; how he transformed old, torn, newspapers, microfilm, internet downloads, personal collections and photocopies into the two new beautiful volumes that have recently been published
  - Dan Kindel and Bernie Knoll will discuss how they've created over a dozen Seckatary Hawkins adventure stories, in the spirit of Robert Franc Schulkers; how RFS encouraged creative writing among club members

- with contests and prizes; how Bernie and Dan team up to create today's adventure stories and a sneak peak at their next exciting story!
- AT 4:00 PM, Gregg Bogosian will discuss the results of his latest research on the early life of RFS and the likely location of the "clubhouse" and area along the riverbank where the exploits of RFS and his chums inspired the world of Seckatary Hawkins.
  - Special chance, once again, for you personally to participate in recreating a Seckatary Hawkins radio show with a live script reading
  - View rare Seckatary Hawkins collectibles, copies of original stories as they appeared in the Cincinnati Enquirer, and other Seck artifacts; bring your own collectibles; compare and swap
  - Learn about the next new Seckatary books to be published and find out when they will be available
  - Tour the Behringer Crawford Museum and see great exhibits on the northern Ky area so loved by Seckatary Hawkins
  - Your chance to purchase original and new Seckatary Hawkins books
  - Join in a club singing practice led by Diane "Lew Hunter" Schneider (cousin of Seckatary Randy Schulkers) featuring a sing-along of songs from the good old days
  - Make new friends and reunite with members from near and far; discuss what Seckatary Hawkins means to you, and why "Seckatary Lives!"
  - COST Of MEETING DAY, 9 am – 5 pm: $50 includes EVERYTHING! Breakfast items at 9 am, all-day coffee, tea, juices, water... Sumptuous outdoor veranda luncheon of salads, sandwiches, and desserts, overlooking the hills of Kentucky... All talks, exhibits, and displays.

OPTIONAL Saturday Night Dinner/Farewell Event:

5:30pm – 8:30pm OPTIONAL– A Fair and Square Dinner Party with Randy Schulkers! (Cost, only $10, cash bar) Enjoy a hot barbecue, mac & cheese, and slaw dinner with desserts. Tour Joeline Lecture's (grand daughter of Seck illustrator Joe Ebertz) home, a remodeled historic church in Newport, Ky (Pelham). See artwork by Joeline's grandfather including original sketches used in Seck stories. Join the club sing-along accompanied by Joeline on an original grand pipe organ that Lew Hunter would have coveted!
